DON'T WORRY, WE CAN HELP!

We understand that business finances can be confusing, time consuming and personal. This workshop series aims to provide you with a baseline of necessary business financial principles while still keeping your time and privacy a priority. You will complete this series being able to identify the information needed to record transactions and construct a balance sheet, profit and loss statement and cashflow projection for your business. You will also be provided with resources for continuing the journey toward business financial health.

Workshop Series

The 3 week workshop series will teach all basic financial principles to help you set your business up for financial health.

Technical Assistance

Series graduates can request 1-on-1 financial consulting to dive deeper into your individual business needs.

Financial Resources

You will be provided tools to help you record transactions and report on your business financial situation.
